On October 1, 2024, Mr. M. Rajasekhar, a Research Scholar from the Department of Commerce at SV University, Tirupati, delivered an insightful seminar on “New Trends in Digital Marketing” at the DCCP Seminar Hall, SPW Polytechnic, Tirupati. The event witnessed an enthusiastic gathering of students and faculty members eager to explore the latest developments in the digital marketing landscape.

Mr. Rajasekhar’s presentation covered a range of pertinent topics, including the impact of emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence and machine learning on marketing strategies. He also discussed the growing influence of social media on consumer behavior and shared effective content marketing strategies that are currently shaping industry practices.

The seminar was designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the evolving digital marketing environment, equipping them with the knowledge to navigate their future careers in this dynamic field. The engaging format of the session encouraged active participation, leading to a fruitful discussion during the interaction segment.

At the conclusion of the seminar, Mr. Rajasekhar engaged with students, addressing their questions and encouraging further exploration of topics that piqued their interest. Attendees expressed their appreciation for the valuable insights gained from the seminar, recognizing its relevance to their academic pursuits and future career opportunities.

This event not only enhanced the knowledge base of the participants but also fostered a sense of community as students and faculty united to discuss the impactful trends shaping the world of digital marketing. The success of the seminar underscores the importance of continuous learning in keeping pace with industry advancements.

SPW Polytechnic looks forward to hosting more such informative sessions that bridge the gap between academic learning and practical industry knowledge.

Sri Padmavati Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic), under the aegis of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD), celebrated Gandhi Jayanthi with immense patriotic fervour and enthusiasm on Wednesday. The event, held within the college premises, witnessed active participation from the Principal, Heads of Departments (HODs), faculty members, and students, all coming together to pay homage to the Father of the Nation, Mahatma Gandhi.

The commemorative event commenced with a reverent floral tribute to Mahatma Gandhi. Following this, the Principal addressed the gathering, delivering an inspiring speech that highlighted the enduring relevance of Gandhian principles in today's world. She emphasized the importance of truth, non-violence, and selfless service, urging the students to imbibe these values in their personal and professional lives.

Adding to the commemorative addresses, various HODs and faculty members also shared their insightful perspectives on Mahatma Gandhi's life, his pivotal role in India's independence movement, and the timelessness of his teachings. Their speeches resonated with the audience, fostering a deeper understanding of Gandhi's philosophy.

The students of SPW Polytechnic showcased their talents and paid their tribute through a variety of engaging events. Competitions in drawing and speech were organized, centered around themes of Gandhi's life and his vision for India. The enthusiastic participation of students in these events was a testament to their respect and admiration for the Mahatma.

The celebrations culminated with the Principal and HODs acknowledging and appreciating the winners and participants of the various competitions. Their words of encouragement were met with applause, motivating the students further.

The event concluded with a formal vote of thanks delivered by the Student Co-ordinator, who expressed gratitude to the management, faculty, and fellow students for making the Gandhi Jayanthi celebrations a memorable and meaningful occasion. The day served as a poignant reminder of the sacrifices made for the nation's freedom and the enduring legacy of Mahatma Gandhi.

Rashtriya Ekta Diwas

Sri Padmavati Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic), managed by Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD), observed Rashtriya Ekta Diwas (National Unity Day) with great patriotic zeal and enthusiasm on Thursday. The event, held at the college campus, marked the birth anniversary of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the Iron Man of India, and saw enthusiastic participation from the Principal, Heads of Departments (HODs), faculty members, and students.

The program commenced with floral tributes offered to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, acknowledging his monumental role in unifying the nation. The Principal then addressed the assembly, delivering a powerful speech on the significance of Rashtriya Ekta Diwas. She highlighted Sardar Patel's unwavering commitment to national integration and urged everyone to uphold the values of unity and integrity that he championed.

Following the Principal's address, several HODs and faculty members also shared their thoughts. Their speeches shed light on Sardar Patel's life, his vision for a united India, and the importance of preserving the nation's sovereignty and solidarity in contemporary times.

To engage the student community and foster a spirit of unity, various events such as drawing and elocution competitions were organized. Students actively participated, expressing their understanding of national unity and the contributions of Sardar Patel through their creative and oratorical skills.

The efforts of the students were lauded by the Principal and HODs, who appreciated the winners and all participants for their enthusiastic involvement in the commemorative events.

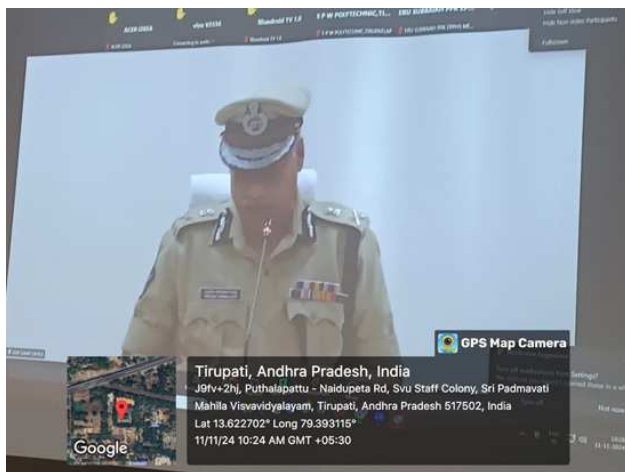

The Rashtriya Ekta Diwas celebrations concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks proposed by the Student Co-ordinator. She extended gratitude to the management, faculty, and students for their collective effort in making the event a resounding success and for reinforcing the message of national unity.

Cyber Crime Against Women & Children and Anti-Drugs

An informative awareness program on cyber crime against women and children, and anti-drugs was conducted at SPW Polytechnic, TTD, Tirupati on 11th November 2024. The session was organized online and led by Mr. J. Venkata Rao, Additional Superintendent of Police, with the aim of educating students and staff on the rising threats in cyberspace and the dangers of drug abuse.

The program was attended by the Principal, Heads of Departments (HoDs), faculty members, and a large number of students, who gathered in the seminar hall to participate in the session.

Mr. J. Venkata Rao delivered an elaborate and insightful speech on the increasing instances of cyber crime, particularly those targeting women and children. He explained the various forms of cyber threats, including online harassment, identity theft, cyberbullying, and financial fraud. He also outlined preventive measures and precautionary steps that individuals can take to protect themselves in the digital space.

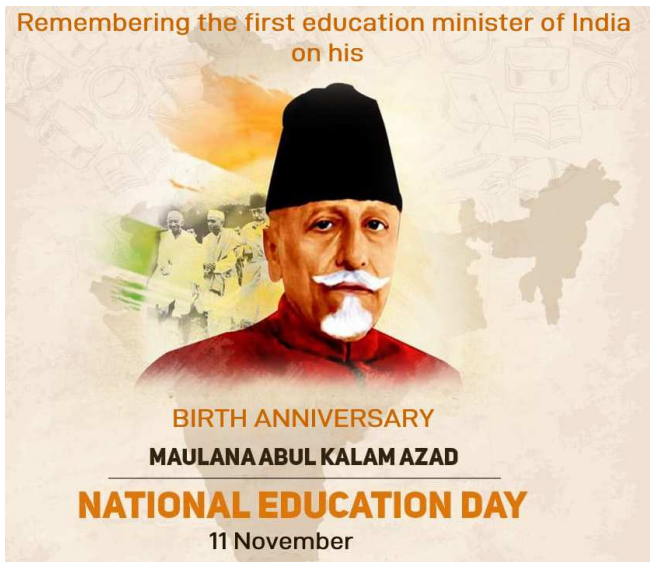

Additionally, Mr. Rao highlighted the harmful effects of drug abuse and its impact on youth and society. He urged students to stay away from addictive substances and become ambassadors of a drug-free, safe community.

The session was both educational and empowering, creating awareness among students about the importance of being vigilant and responsible in both digital and social environments.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by the Student Co-ordinator, who expressed sincere gratitude to Mr. J. Venkata Rao for his valuable insights, and to the Principal, faculty, and students for their participation and support.

This awareness session at SPW Polytechnic served as a crucial step towards building a safer and more informed student community.

Sri Padmavati Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic), under the esteemed Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD), celebrated National Education Day with great fervour and a spirit of academic enrichment on Monday. The event, held within the college premises, commemorated the birth anniversary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, India's first Minister of Education, and saw active participation from the Principal, Heads of Departments (HODs), faculty members, and students.

The celebration began with a respectful homage to Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, acknowledging his profound contributions to laying the foundation of India's education system. The Principal then addressed the gathering, delivering an insightful speech on the significance of National Education Day.

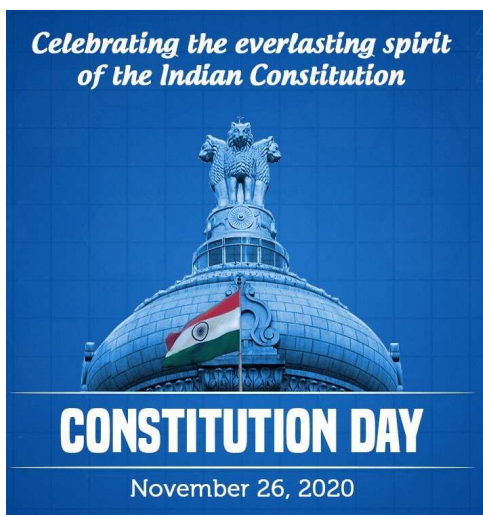

She highlighted Maulana Azad's vision for a progressive and inclusive educational framework and emphasized the transformative power of education in nation-building and individual empowerment.

Following the Principal's address, various HODs and faculty members also shared their perspectives. Their speeches delved into Maulana Azad's life, his pioneering efforts in shaping India's educational policies, and the ongoing importance of striving for excellence and accessibility in education.

To engage the students and underscore the theme of the day, a series of activities were organized. Students enthusiastically participated in events such as drawing competitions and elocution contests, focusing on themes related to education, literacy, and the role of youth in national development. The Principal and HODs later commended the winners and all participants for their active involvement and thoughtful contributions to the events. Their words of appreciation served as encouragement for the students to continue pursuing knowledge with dedication.

The National Education Day program concluded with a formal vote of thanks delivered by the Student Co-ordinator. She expressed gratitude to the college management, faculty, and fellow students for their collective efforts in making the celebration a meaningful and inspiring occasion, reinforcing the commitment to the cause of education.

CAMPUS

Placements

Sri Padmavathi Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic), run by Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD), successfully conducted its campus placement drive for the Academic Year 2024-25, securing a bright future for its students. As an integral part of the academic curriculum, the placement process saw enthusiastic participation from various leading companies, resulting in 108 students receiving job offers. Notably, several students received multiple offer letters, underscoring the quality of education and training at the institution. “Students from the Diploma in Electronics and Communication Engineering (DECE), Diploma in Commercial and Computer Practice (DCCP), and Diploma in Pharmacy (DPH) disciplines benefited from the recruitment drive. Renowned companies such as Autoliv Inflators Pvt Ltd, Centum Electronics, TVS, Apollo, and Big Basket were among the prominent recruiters offering diverse opportunities to the talented young women.” “Dr. M. Padmavathamma, Principal of SPW Polytechnic, expressed her delight at the outcome and extended her heartfelt congratulations to all the students who secured offer letters. She lauded their hard work and dedication, and also acknowledged the efforts of the faculty and placement cell in facilitating these opportunities. The consistent success in campus placements highlights SPW Polytechnic's commitment to providing industry-relevant skills and fostering career growth for its students.

JOB ACHIEVERS DAY On 28th April, 2025 @ SPW Polytechnic Campus

A wave of pride and celebration swept through Sri Padmavathi Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic), TTD, Tirupati, as the institution hosted its "Job Achievers Day."

The memorable event, held on campus, was dedicated to felicitating students who had successfully secured coveted campus placements in a multitude of reputed companies. Adding a special touch to the occasion, the accomplished students were accompanied by their visibly proud parents, sharing in the joy of their daughters' significant career milestones. "The ceremony was graced by an eminent panel of guests.

Sri T. Venkata Suneelu, the Devasthanams Educational Officer, TTD, presided as the Chief Guest, underscoring the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams' unwavering commitment to fostering educational excellence and empowering women. The Guest of Honour for the day was Sri A. Nirmal Kumar Priya, Regional Joint Director (R.J.D.) of Technical Education, Tirupati, whose presence lent further prestige to the event. "A significant highlight was the attendance of Special Guests from leading industries, representing the companies that recruited the talented students. This included Sri V. Sundar Raman, Assistant Manager HR, Autoliv Inflators India Pvt. Ltd.; Sri M. Jagadeesh, HR, Apollo Pharmacy; Sri C.D. Amshith, HR, Centum Electronics; and Sri R. Guru Prasad, HR, TVS Indecon Ltd.

Their participation signified the strong industry-academia partnerships fostered by SPW Polytechnic.

"The "Job Achievers Day" was impeccably convened by Dr. M. Padmavathamma, Principal (i/c) of S.P.W. Polytechnic. Throughout the event, the Chief Guest, Guest of Honour, and the Special Guests from the industry warmly congratulated the students on their remarkable achievements. In a key segment of the ceremony, these dignitaries formally presented the offer letters to the successful students, marking their official entry into the professional world.

In her address, Principal Dr. M. Padmavathamma expressed immense appreciation for the students, lauding their diligence, perseverance, and the exemplary skills that led to their placements. She acknowledged the crucial role of the faculty and the placement cell in guiding and preparing the students for these competitive opportunities.

"The event concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by a student coordinator, expressing gratitude to the guests, management, faculty, parents, and fellow students for making "Job Achievers Day 2025" a resounding success and a cherished memory for all. The day stood as a shining testament to the bright futures awaiting the graduates of SPW Polytechnic.

Students of Sri Padmavati Women's Polytechnic (SPW Polytechnic) showcased their exceptional talent and environmental awareness by achieving a remarkable clean sweep at competitions held on the occasion of the International Day of Biological Diversity 2025.

The event, organized by the Andhra Pradesh State Bio-Diversity Board under the aegis of Guntur, took place on May 15, 2025, right here at the SPW Polytechnic campus. “The young women from SPW Polytechnic dominated the proceedings, securing the top three positions – first, second, and third prizes – in both the Essay Writing and Drawing competitions. Their insightful essays and creative artwork, centered around the theme of biological diversity, clearly impressed the judges.

Adding to this significant achievement, all the prize-winning students have been selected to represent their institution at the state-level competitions, a testament to the high caliber of their entries.

“Dr. M. Padmavathamma, Principal of Sri Padmavati Women's Polytechnic, expressed immense pride and heartily congratulated the victorious students on their outstanding performance. She lauded their dedication, creativity, and deep understanding of the importance of biodiversity.

“In her message, Dr. Padmavathamma also extended sincere gratitude to the TTD Devasthanams Educational Officer (DEO) and the entire TTD Management for their unwavering support and contribution to the institution. Their encouragement, she noted, plays a vital role in enabling students to participate and excel in such enriching co-curricular activities, fostering holistic development alongside academic pursuits.

The success at the Bio-Diversity Day competitions is another feather in the cap for SPW Polytechnic, highlighting its commitment to nurturing well-rounded individuals conscious of their environmental responsibilities.
